

Indoor Station

pretty much interface only

Display video feed (activated by doorbell or motion detector) one button to speak

maybe one button to open the door standby mode with option to activate the camera background tasks to receive video as well as receive and send audio